Board members present their report and accounts for the year ended 31 March 2018.

Principal activity
Creggan Training Services (CTS) was established in April 2015 to counteract deprivation and disadvantage through increasing the skills levels and employment prospects within the community and to break the cycles of traditional and cultural wordlessness. CTS is a community intervention project offering community based training and promoting education skills and training services across the Creggan area.

The main aim of CTS is to provide education and training programmes in various subject areas and at different levels to residents in an area of highest deprivation, targeting those most socially isolated and those hardest to reach whilst at the same time offering progression skills and qualifications and providing learners with skills and motivation.

CTS provides training in, and facilitates the development of both personal and vocational skills; enabling learners to overcome barriers to their personal and employment progression, by building relationships, understanding learners' needs and by providing consistent, supportive learner contact.

All inclusive organisation integrating learners of different abilities, backgrounds and experiences, and facilitating all members of the community equally, it works to increase empowerment and participation in the economy. It also promotes community engagement and volunteering through the provision of work/ volunteer placements and relevant on-going training to enhance employment opportunities.

Board members that served in the period;
Christopher McKnight
Donna Hutton
Sean McMonagle
Tony O'Doherty

We approve the accounts and confirm that we have made available all relevant records and information for their preparation.

[Signature]
Board member

Date: 22 November 2018